

Legislature Asked For Rigid Standard

Broad Traffic Safety Plan Is Called For

Speech Before The Legislature Follows Pledges

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Gov. John M. Dalton asked the Missouri Legislature today to set up a rigid standard of good conduct for public officials and enact a broad traffic safety program.

Those two programs got the most emphasis in a special message prepared for delivery to a joint session of the House and Senate. His first major speech since being inaugurated Monday, it carried out many of the pledges of his campaign.

The new Democratic governor also urged the assembly to abolish the office of county superintendent of schools and get started this session on a new 10-year plan to modernize the mental health program.

In recommending a tough corrupt practices act, Dalton said "the startling revelations the past two years of payola in so many public and private fields should be sufficient to cause us to establish our own safeguards in all public offices in Missouri."

To that end he recommended: 1. Registration of every lobbyist with the secretary of state setting out the names of employers, amount of salary, gifts of $25 or more and the recipients and expenditures for dinners or entertainment of $50 or more.

2. "Making it a misdemeanor for any public official to accept a fee or anything of value to introduce, handle, help pass or defeat any legislation or to represent any client who has a case before any state agency."

3. Making it a misdemeanor for a state or county official or a member of a state or county political committee to solicit public business unless it is handled on a sealed bid basis.

4. Bar any state official or employee from practicing or appearing before any agency where he has worked, until three years after he leaves the job.

5. Prevent any official or employee from using his office to obtain "special privileges, gifts of any kind, favors, influence or exemptions."

6. Require every state agency and committee to keep a public record of lawyers and lobbyists appearing before them and the nature of their business.

Long List Of Crimes Solved Here

The apprehension of two juveniles in connection with the theft of two automobiles Tuesday night gave Sedalia police the answer to several crimes committed in the city during the past six months, according to Police Chief Ralph Hamlin.

Hamlin said his records show the following:

On Aug. 31, 1960, one of the juveniles was found on the streets, and his father was arrested for violation of the city's curfew law by allowing the juvenile out on the street. Actually, Hamlin said, the juvenile was implicated in the theft of a car, but no charges were filed.

During the Christmas holidays, one of the juveniles was apprehended for shoplifting at the Safeway Store. He was turned over to juvenile authorities.

One of the juveniles admitted to Hamlin that on June 13 he was implicated in the break-in at Abbott's Recreation Parlor. He was turned over to juvenile authorities.

On Nov. 23, both juveniles were arrested in Omaha, Neb., in connection with the theft of a car. One admitted the theft, Hamlin said. They were turned over to juvenile authorities.

On July 13, one of the juveniles admitted stealing a radio from the Firestone Store, and a clock from Woolworth's. They were turned over to juvenile authorities.

One of the juveniles admitted stealing a wrist watch and a radio from Bill & Slims store on Nov. 22.

"I hope that this time these two juveniles are taken out of circulation for a while," Hamlin added.

NAMED BY KENNEDY — John Moore, vice president of the University of Pennsylvania at Philadelphia, was named administrator of the General Services Administration in the incoming John F. Kennedy administration.

Voters Again Turn Down 2 Proposals

Let It Ride Until Spring, Mayor Nutt Of Houstonia Says

Houstonia voters for the second time turned down two bond proposals in an election held Tuesday, with a wider margin this time than before, Mayor Bernice Nutt reported.

Proposition No. 1 was voted down by 19 votes, and the second proposition was defeated by seven. Mayor Nutt said 132 ballots were cast in the election.

When asked what would be done next, Mayor Nutt said: "We're going to let it ride until spring." When another election may be held, Mayor Nutt said he preferred to make no further statement at this time.

Proposition No. 1, which required a two-third majority to pass, called for issuance of general obligation bonds in the amount of $12,500 to extend and improve the combined waterworks and sewage system of the city and to make the sewage system a part of the combined system.

Proposition No. 2, needing a four-sevenths majority, called for the issuance of $60,000 in Combined Waterworks and Sewage System Revenue bonds to extend and improve the combined system by constructing a sewage system, and make this system a part of the combined system.

Approval of the bonds called for in Proposition One would have authorized the levy of an annual tax on tangible property in order to pay the interest and principal on the bonds which would be retired within 20 years.

Close 100-Year-Old Vernon County Jail

NEVADA, Mo. (AP) — The Vernon County Jail has closed the county's century-old jail on grounds it is not fit for use.

In the Nov. 8 election the voters defeated a $90,000 proposal for a new jail.

Baseball Star on Program

Baptist Convention Closes; Attendance Tops 1600 Mark

A big league baseball star, the Negro pastor of the largest church in Kansas City, the director of evangelism for 32,000 Southern Baptist churches, and the executive secretary of the largest Baptist agency in the world combined efforts to emphasize the factors in building evangelistic churches here yesterday at the annual Evangelistic Conference of the Missouri Baptist Convention. The meeting was held at the First Baptist Church, Sixth and Lamine.

Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell, pitcher for the World Champion Pittsburgh Pirates and a Baptist deacon in a St. Louis church, told the Conference that one of the most satisfying personal experiences in his life was his effort to win others to Christ. He also pointed out the necessity of more such efforts on the part of laymen if the churches are to be effective in the present world.

Dr. John W. Williams, pastor of the large St. Stephen Baptist Church in Kansas City, speaking to 1200 persons, challenged them to an all-out revival effort while avoiding the two great dangers to evangelism — emotional excesses that destroy public confidence and

New Home No Affect On Rates

Water Department Move to Temple, 'Economy Move'

The manager of the Sedalia Water Department, Major C. Hager, pointed out Wednesday that the proposed acquisition of the Masonic Temple building as a new home for the department is an economy move, and will not affect the water rates in any way.

The new location, if approved by the City Council and agreement is reached with the Lodge, would cost the department a total of only $12,430 over a ten-year period.

This figure was arrived at by adding up the total cost of the building, including the purchase cost, interest, heat, insurance, maintenance and remodeling costs of $39,430, and subtracting the cost of rent of the present offices, $27,000.

Under this plan, for $1,243 per year over the ten-year period, the City would gain ownership of property suitable for the continued operation and expansion of the water department.

As funds are not available at the present time for the purchase or construction of a new building, the Board of Public Works, on recommendation of Black and Veatch, consulting engineers, decided that an older building, but suitable for use with a minimum of remodeling, and with plenty of space for future development, would be best for everyone concerned.

The proposed office site is located at Seventh and Osage, and is considered suitable for permanent offices of the Water Department. It would give equal accessibility to customers for payment of bills as does the present location, and in addition would provide customers and employees with adequate parking space.

The structure was designed as a church, and was built prior to 1900. The engineers failed to find any major structural defect. There is about 3,000 square feet of floor space that could be used as working space, excluding the basement and auditorium, compared to the 1,400 square feet available in the present offices. The auditorium could be used as a storage place for the department's vehicles. The vault is four times as big as the present vault.

Keeping in mind the fact that the site is suitable for construction of a new building in the future, it was recommended that remodeling be kept at a minimum.

LIGHTS FOR THE OVERPASS—Fluorescent lights beneath the overpass on East Broadway were installed this week by workers from the Missouri Public Service Co. under the city's lighting contract with MPSC. The work was scheduled for completion sometime today. Connecting up one of the lights here is Roy Meier, 110 West 32nd. For sometime now the overpass has been a dark spot for pedestrians. Lights originally over the sidewalks have been inoperative. The new lights will provide illumination for both sidewalks and the street beneath the overpass. (Democrat-Capital photo)

Board of Education Says

Work On New School May Begin In Spring

Construction on the new Heber U. Hunt elementary school and the new gymnasium - classroom building at Smith - Cotton High School should begin early this spring, it was brought out at the regular meeting of the Board of Education Tuesday night.

Maxwell T. Sanford, representing the architects, Dan R. Sanford & Sons, presented the plans and specifications for the new elementary school, and recommended the board approve the plans and specifications as soon as possible, in order for the contractors to bid on the projects and begin work by spring.

The board agreed, and decided to study the plans for a week, then have a special meeting at noon Jan. 17 and approve the plans and specifications, with any changes they might wish to make. The board plans to issue a bid call on both projects at this special meeting.

The plans and specifications for the building at Smith-Cotton High School were presented at a previous board meeting.

In other developments relating to the school building program, Sanford indicated that in his opinion, the work on Whittier and Mark Twain Schools has not been progressing as fast as he would like. He attributed the delays to lack of coordination between individual phases of the jobs, such

Road Work Awaits Okay Of 6 Farmers

Construction will start April 1 on a new state road HH providing six property owners relinquish the right of way before that date, according to information received by the Democrat-Capital.

Of 27 right of way deeds needed, 21 have been secured. All the property owner has to do is set his fences back and give a small amount of additional right of way, highway officials say.

The new road, about six miles in length, runs from Highway 65 east to Beaman and will eliminate eight dangerous curves and 19 narrow bridges on the present old Beaman Road.

The state will maintain the road at no cost to the 12-Mile Special Road District or the county, thus giving the special road district more money to build new roads and maintain present ones.

Improvements on the road are expected to up valuation of the farm land while increasing safety to drivers on the road.

The legal department of the State Highway Department, District Four, 5117 East 31st, Kansas City 28, Mo., is handling the signing of right of way deeds.

TB Seal Campaign Has Been Extended

Time has been extended to the end of January for the TB Christmas Seal Campaign, and anyone who has not sent in their contribution is asked by Charles Hanley, treasurer, to do so as soon as possible.

Mr. Hanley points out that it is these contributions which help in the detection of tuberculosis.

2 Negroes Into Class In Georgia

Teen-age Pair Enters University Without Mishap

ATHENS, GA. (AP)—Two teen-age Negroes quietly sat down in classes with white students today after federal court rulings swept aside nearly two centuries of segregation at the University of Georgia.

Charlayne A. Hunter, 18, and Hamilton E. Holmes, 19, trudged along the oak and elm lined walkways to psychology and zoology classes respectively.

No crowds bothered them. There was just the usual flow of students making their way to the 9 a.m. classes in a score of buildings spread out over an area of more than two miles.

Some of the white boys and girls cast curious glances at the two Negroes. Others paid them no attention. Some spoke to them. It was just another day starting at one of the nation's higher educational centers.

While all was quiet in the university town, there were rumblings in Atlanta of further displeasure with integration on any level.

House Speaker George L. Smith and State Auditor B. E. Thrasher Jr. expressed the opinion that the present appropriations act automatically cuts off funds to the university when integrated. But regardless of their views, normal operations proceeded.

The U.S. Supreme Court Tuesday refused Georgia's plea to further delay integration at the school.

NAMED TO DEFENSE POST — Arthur Sylvester, chief Washington correspondent of the Newark, N.J., News since 1944, was named by President-elect Kennedy to be assistant secretary of defense for public affairs.

327 Couples Trade Vows During 1960

The love bug bit Pettis County the hardest, as might be expected, during June of 1960 with April ranking a close second.

Figures obtained from the office of County Recorder Reno Johnson showed 41 couples exchanged vows during June and 35 in April using marriage licenses obtained from the local recorder. A total of 327 marriages during 1960 were recorded in Johnson's office.

A month-by-month breakdown of marriages follows: January, 14; February, 19; March, 19; April, 35; May, 26; June, 41; July, 32; August, 28; September, 32; October, 22; November, 30; and December, 29.

While couples were happily signing their names with a glint of love in their eye in the Recorder's office, upstairs in the Circuit Court rooms 116 other couples were in the process of ending their marriages.

Information from the office of Bryan Howe, Circuit Court clerk, showed 161 petitions for divorce were filed in the court during the year.

Of the 161 petitions filed 45 were dismissed by one party or the other before final action was taken, leaving a total of 112 divorces and four annulments granted.

Deaths recorded in Pettis County during 1960 raised slightly over the previous year while births showed a decline.

According to totals from Thos. C. Dundon, director of statistical services of the Missouri Division of Health in Jefferson City, Pettis County registered 447 deaths during 1960 while recording 736 births.

Deaths increased by three over the 443 county residents who died in 1959, while births were down 30 from last year's total of 766.

Comparable marriage and divorce figures for 1959 were not immediately available.

Corbett to Fill Whitton's Slot In Commission

J. J. Corbett, a veteran of almost 38 years with the Missouri State Highway Department, has been promoted to chief engineer of the Department, effective Feb. 1, by the State Highway Commission.

He will succeed Rex M. Whitton, who last month was appointed by President-Elect John F. Kennedy to be Federal Highway Administrator.

Corbett, 63, will assume the chief engineer's duties on January 20, the same day that Whitton begins his new job in Washington, D. C.

Corbett has been assistant chief engineer of the Highway Department since June 1, 1956.

Marvin J. Snider, who has been with the Highway Department for more than 31 years, was promoted by the Commission to take Corbett's place as assistant chief engineer.

Reds Say No To US Plan For Revival

Announcement Is During Talks With Christian Herter

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Soviet Union reportedly has rebuffed a U.S. suggestion that an international control commission for Laos be revived.

The Soviet rejection was said to have been given Tuesday to Secretary of State Christian A. Herter by Soviet Ambassador Mikhail Menshikov.

Menshikov held a 40-minute discussion on Laos with Herter at the State Department. The talk was at Menshikov's request.

Britain has led the move for reviving the commission, composed of India, Poland and Canada. The United States is agreeable provided the commission is acceptable to King Savang Vatthana and the royal Laos government of pro-Western Prince Boun Oum.

The Soviet Union claims the ousted government of Prince Souvanna Phouma, a neutralist who has fled Laos in the civil war raging in the Southeast Asia kingdom, is the legal government.

State Department press officer Lincoln White declined to say "yes" or "no" when asked if the discussion had been encouraging. He said Menshikov "came in to discuss the situation in Laos as he sees it from his standpoint."

Menshikov referred to the talks as "a quiet discussion." He said he gave Herter no notes or proposals and U.S. officials said they saw no particular encouragement in his call. Nor would U.S. officials picture the visit as a forerunner of negotiations on Laos.

The State Department confirmed reports that the United States has sent light aircraft—four helicopters and four two-seater, propeller-driven planes—to the Boun Oum government at its request.

White said the planes were furnished as "part of our normal military aid program to Laos" and that he presumed the United States would train Laotian pilots if requested.

It was learned also that President Eisenhower has set forth U.S. views on Laos in a letter to Indian Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru. India has been critical of the American position.

Two Juveniles Arrested For Car Theft

Two Sedalia juveniles were apprehended Tuesday night in connection with the theft of two automobiles.

According to police reports, the two were seen in Buncheon Monday night driving a 1958 Chevrolet similar to the one stolen that day from the Missouri-Pacific parking lot at St. Louis and Ohio.

The report came from Cooper County Sheriff Mann who said that the 1958 Chevrolet was seen leaving Buncheon later that night at a high rate of speed behind a 1956 Chevrolet which had been reported stolen in Buncheon.

The two boys were picked up and taken to the police station where after questioning, they were reported to have admitted to Police Chief Ralph Hamlin and Juvenile Officer Cecil Glenn, that they had stolen and "stripped" the 1956 Chevrolet.

The juveniles were later taken to the County Jail.

The 1956 Chevrolet was recovered outside Sedalia Tuesday with most of the accessories gone, but in drivable condition. It was taken to the Sedalia Police Station.

The 1958 Chevrolet the juveniles were said to have been driving is believed to be the one which was recovered Tuesday morning on a "hunch" by Sgt. Jewell Riley of the Sedalia Police.

Riley noticed the car parked in an alley across the street from his home. The left front window glass had been broken out. Riley checked the license number and found the car belonged to William E. Laboube of Blackwater, an employee of the Missouri Pacific railroad.

The owner was notified, and he said the car had been stolen from the MoPac parking lot at Ohio and St. Louis Monday. The car was turned over to the owner later Tuesday morning.

Warrant Issued In Break-in At Gem-Dandy

A felony warrant charging Richard Lee Brown of Kansas City with burglary, in connection with the break-in and theft of numerous items from the Gem-Dandy Jewelry Store on South Ohio Nov. 15, was issued by Prosecuting Attorney J. R. Fritz Wednesday morning.

Brown is being held by the Minneapolis, Minn. police. He was arrested in Minneapolis and after questioning the Minneapolis police contacted the Sedalia police department, and Brown was connected with the Gem-Dandy theft. Brown is to be returned to Sedalia for trial.

OBITUARIES

Mrs. Francis Louise King

Mrs. Francis Louise King, 115 East Seventh, one of the oldest and most well known persons in the community, died at 3 p.m. Tuesday at Bothwell Hospital at the age of 97. Mrs. King fell and broke her hip last Thursday and was apparently getting along very well until pneumonia developed.

Mrs. King was born in Pettis County on Dec. 13, 1863, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Robinson, where he lived her entire life. Her parents were pioneers in the county, settling near Newland. At the age of 16 she was married to Matt Fields and to this marriage were born two children, Jesse and Samuel. She was left a widow at 18, and several years later was married to John King in Sedalia. Mr. King was a widower with three children, and so they began their marriage with five small children. Three children were then born to them, Charles King of the home, Claude and Mary of Los Angeles, Calif.

Surviving besides the three children named are four grandchildren, Claude, Jr., Mary and Stephen Markam, all of Los Angeles, and Julia Fields of Philadelphia, Pa., and one great-grandson.

Mrs. King was a member of the Baptist Church for 81 years, beginning at the little country church at Newland when she was a young girl and later the First Baptist Church in Sedalia.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Thursday at McLaughlin Chapel with the Rev. J. R. Wallace officiating.

Music will be in charge of Mrs. Helen Williams with Mrs. Charles Farley as soloist and Mrs. Williams at the organ.

Palbearers will be Aubrey Case, Homer Kindle, Charles Poynter, T. O. Haggard, Charles Farley and Earl Crawford.

Burial will be in Crown Hill Cemetery.

Rev. Ralph A. Waggoner, DD

Funeral services were held at 2 p.m. Wednesday in the Oswego, Kan. Presbyterian Church for the Rev. Ralph A. Waggoner, former pastor of the Sedalia Broadway Presbyterian Church, who died in Oswego Monday.

Burial was in Oswego.

Fires In City

Firemen were called at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday to 1620 Honey-suckle Drive, to extinguish a fire in the floor furnace.

The home is owned by Keith Yount and occupied by Ronald White. Damage was not listed.

Firemen said the cause of the blaze was lint, vented into the floor furnace by a clothes dryer.

An air cleaner came loose on the carburetor of a truck, spilled the cleaning oil on top of the motor and caused a fire at 10:05 a.m. Wednesday. The truck was owned by F. J. Schenk, LaMonte.

The fire was out when the firemen from the Sedalia Fire Department arrived. The truck was located in the 1900 block on West Broadway.

Joseph's Hospital, Boonville. The Rev. Evelyn Taylor will officiate.

Palbearers will be Rev. Clyde Parsons, C. L. Bain, Albert Miller, Rev. LeRoy Bain, Herbert Smith and William Smith.

Accidents

Lajuana Green, five, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Green III, of Route 2, Green Ridge, received a laceration under her chin in an accident when the car her mother was driving struck a telephone pole shortly after 7 o'clock Tuesday night. The accident occurred on the Green Ridge Road about three miles south of Sedalia.

Mrs. Green received a slight cut on the right knee and bruise on the right leg. Another daughter, Theresa, two, was not hurt.

Mrs. Green was driving a 1950 Ford sedan pushing a Chevrolet pickup truck driven by her husband. They were trying to push the truck to the Green home.

According to Mrs. Green, she didn't actually know what happened other than she suddenly lost control of the car, it swerved to the left and went off the pavement down across the shoulder and struck the telephone pole "dead center." The front end of the Ford was extensively damaged.

Mrs. Green said a truck loaded with cattle stopped, then drove on. She was not positive if the truck might have bumped her or not. She told Trooper Richard Joos she actually didn't know what happened, according to the trooper.

The Ford was towed to Sedalia by a wrecker from the Bacon emphasis on continued and more broad retail promotion programs. He, also, suggested on an area basis, joining with other communities, in efforts to secure additional defense installations.

He stressed concentration on a broad chamber public relations program with great emphasis on division activities, accomplish a community survey and audit, seeking information and opinions from businesses and industries and private citizens. He said he felt an attempt should be made by all the various means of programs to create a favorable and progressive attitude among all citizens of the community which will tend to increase the industrial business and total economic growth of the community.

Faber stated that the Chamber would continue and intensify industrial development efforts, "An attempt should be made to gain support for more and larger conventions in the city, and through planned programming assist in better public understanding of business and business problems."

He suggested through planned programming to assist in better public understanding and business problems, prepare a comprehensive Program of Work and publish the objectives in the form of a supplement to an edition of the local newspaper for complete area understanding of the Chamber and what the chamber is attempting to accomplish.

Faber said that he felt that an orientation program for new members would be beneficial since many members do not realize the many services offered by the chamber. He suggested a planned programming to assist in better public understanding of business and business problems and pointed out the need to increase the total Chamber of Commerce budget to an amount which will allow the City of Sedalia represented by the Chamber of Commerce to be at least competitive in its endeavors.

For a growing city he suggested that continued efforts be made to improve fire protection for Sedalia business, industry, and homes with specific emphasis on a new station in West Sedalia before there is a catastrophe to join us into the knowledge of the need for such.

Faber suggested the establishment of a top businessman award for presentation annually to a Pettis County businessman who has made outstanding effort and progress in the operation and growth of his business.

He suggested the possibility and need for combining the activities of the farm marketing division with the agriculture division and assigning this free director to coordinate the various chamber programs.

Gene Cook, membership chairman, struck the same note of enthusiasm a little earlier in the meeting when he stressed the need to know what the Chamber was going to accomplish in the year to come and stated that each division should have some goal to strive for.

He presented to the board a slogan: "We'll get it done in 61," but pointed out that without membership and finance an organization has nothing. He explained that this is a good town, it has much to offer, and the Chamber of Commerce has much to offer but it is to accomplish things it must have interested and active members who know what a Chamber of Commerce means to a town, and it must have money to carry on the many projects.

Cook introduced Harry Naugall, finance chairman, who has worked in that capacity for many years. Naugall stated that they were presenting the lowest budget figures in years to operate the Chamber on from March 1961 to March 1962, which is $25,000. The building and the air conditioner have now been paid off, and the Chamber now completely owns the building in which it is located. Naugall said that they felt this was a realistic and workable budget and was the very lowest that they could make it.

The board voted to accept the budget.

Cook complimented Faber and Mrs. Vivian Warren for controlling the expenses of the Chamber the past year as they did.

P. Cecil Owen, vice-president, suggested that the directors plan their programs during the next two weeks and be ready when the new year starts at which time election of officers for the year 1961-62 be held.

The meeting was presided over by William C. Hopkins, president, who appointed a nominating committee composed of Gene Cook, Sam Boyle and Leon Hall.

Attending the meeting were: Jess Brown, first vice-president; P. Cecil Owen, second vice-president; Mrs. Vivian Warren, treasurer; Jack Faber, secretary-manager; Sam Boyle, Bob Gardner, Don Weller, Larry Griffith, Jr., Leon Hall, Major Hagar, George Ray, Gene Cook, Dick Monsees, Maurice Hogan, Virgil Herrick, T. J. Norris and H. W. Harris, directors.

License Suspension For Marshall Man

State liquor control authorities will suspend the license of a Marshall man on a charge of serving an alcoholic beverage to a minor.

Kenneth F. Turney, 846 Eastwood, operator of Eastwood Grocery in Marshall, will have his license to sell 3.2 per cent beer suspended for 40 days effective Jan. 16, according to information received from the state supervisor of liquor control.

Work

Coming were present at the meeting to explain a new-type Foam-glas roof insulation system. The material is made at the Sedalia plant. After a discussion the board agreed to include the material as an alternate to the base bid in the final plans and specifications for the two projects being initiated.

In other action not related to the building program the board approved a request from the Pettis County Tuberculosis Association to give "skin tests" for tuberculosis to all students and employees. The testing is to be done by the Pettis County Medical Society, with the physicians being assisted by registered nurses. The entire program is on a voluntary basis, it was explained, with the tests to be given only to those students whose parents give their written consent.

The board agreed to file the annual report on federally-connected students, in order to obtain the federal aid authorized for these students.

Jan. 26 and Jan. 27 were designated as "in-service training" days, for the elementary schools, for the annual parent-teacher conferences in these schools.

every church; and a constant program of evangelistic survey, study, preaching and planning.

Dr. James L. Sullivan, executive secretary of the Baptist Sunday School Board in Nashville, Tenn., the largest Baptist agency in the world doing a $26 million publishing business each year, discussed the rewards of an evangelistic pastor. Dr. Sullivan stressed the patriotic values of an evangelistic church and pointed out that "the moral fiber of America is her greatest asset, and evangelistic churches have been the decisive factor in building the spiritual character of our nation's people."

In discussing the world situation, Dr. Sullivan said, "If our churches are not our best defense against communism, we have no adequate defense. . . . The moral fiber of the nation has been built by the right kind of evangelism in the churches, and the most patriotic thing a Baptist can do is to have his full part in building evangelistic churches after the New Testament pattern."

The Conference closed today with a registration of 1,634 pastors and lay people. Next year's Conference will be held at Cape Girardeau, Mo.

Wandering Waistline Back Again

NEW YORK (AP)—In the predictable way of prodigals, the wandering waistline has come home again.

For spring a notable number of New York designers have put the waist back where nature always has thought it belonged. They've indented and shaped and nipped—for greater emphasis.

But that formality over with, they seem to have turned their attention from form to fabric.

In the second afternoon of press week, more than 200 visiting fashion reporters Tuesday saw spring collections of the New York couture group feature fitted waists in new fabrics and new fabric combinations.

The fabrics seemed practical and highly wearable too, unlike some of last season's materials that had you gasping—first at their fabulous opulence, then about where you'd wear them.

The pet of Arthur Jablov and his designer David Kidd was a domestic silk and wool fabric with a slight sheen, and reputedly pretty indestructible called mergino (soft G). It was shown in a series of handsome suits and jacket and dress ensembles, in charcoal, castor (a brown shade) and black.

Jackets came in varying lengths with the cropped jackets hitting just below the waist but standing away from the body. Blouses and bodices were colorful prints to contrast or match the solid colored skirts and jackets.

The Jablov skirts were slim, but cleverly engineered darts and pleats around the waist lent a rhythmic ease to walking. They reached below the knee, too. Unlike some of his couture confreres, Jablov finds an exposed kneecap unfashionable.

The Pattullo-Jo Copeland collection also made much of fabrics, especially in playing one against another in the same dress: crepe in front and pure silk taffeta in back, for example. In a black and white plaid worsted ensemble, the dress' waist tie and jacket lining were lilac silk.

Jo Copeland likes skirts slim, but with movement. She likes jackets for spring not to have a closing, especially, she says, when the dress underneath is too pretty to hide.

Camp Branch Club Holds Meet Thursday

Camp Branch Homemakers met in the home of Mrs. John Billings on Thursday with 13 members and one visitor.

The meeting was called to order by Mrs. Buell Hoad, president. Mrs. Dorothy Knoernschild led the group in singing. Mrs. John Billings gave the devotional and also a reading from Farm Journal.

The club received the Gold Seal for the year 1960. Members are to collect items for the Crippled Children's Center. The items will be used by the center in making items to sell.

Year books were completely filled out and it was decided on subjects that would interest them for the coming year. Handcraft leader, Mrs. Sam Templeton, took orders for materials to be used at a later date.

The program was on health, given by Mrs. Leonard Knoernschild and Mrs. Ted Kerns.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Carl Arnett Feb. 2 which will be an apron exchange in place of making and judging of valentines.

Hughesville Bethel WSCS Holds Meeting

Ten members and two visitors were present at the January meeting of the Hughesville Bethel Woman's Society of Christian Service at the home of Mrs. Walter Kraft.

The president, Mrs. Lawson Smith, called the meeting to order. Mrs. Everett Vannoy gave the devotional and the group sang "Break Thou the Bread of Life." Mrs. Vannoy then presented the program on "Looking Backward—Thinking Forward" and was assisted by Mrs. Price Jackson.

Mrs. Walter Olson, chairman of supply work, reported that 85 pounds of good used clothing and $17 worth of toys, gifts, toiletries, etc. had been sent to the children and golden age group at the Della C. Lamb Home in Kansas City.

Plans were made to have a study course in February on the books "One World, One Mission" and "Safe In Bondage."

Rev. E. W. Bartley closed the meeting with a prayer. Refreshments were then served by the hostess.

'Music Man' Slated For Film Show

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Those famous trombones are coming to the screen, all 76 of them, with 110 cornets close at hand.

They'll be followed by rows and rows of the finest virtuosos and "Music Man" Robert Preston, too. The vastly popular musical is reaching the shooting stage at Warner Brothers, where plans are in the capable hands of Morton Da Costa.

He is the man who transformed the Meredith Willson saga of early-day Iowa into a stage hit, and he will be directing the picture, too. A plain-spoken man with a mop of rust-colored hair and a face full of freckles, he gave a report on the film project.

"It won't be one of those terribly long pictures," he said. "It will run around 2½ hours, which is enough. After all, most Broadway shows run only 2½ hours, including an intermission. You can't hold an audience's attention much longer."

"The film version will follow the same line of the play, though it will be opened up. There were a lot of things I couldn't do on the stage because of limitations of space and time. When Bob sings '76 Trombones,' we'll take it out of the school gymnasium and into the street. Likewise, the final chase can be done all over town."

This may come as a blow to Iowa pride, but the entire film will be shot in Burbank. (California is an Iowa colony, anyway.)

"I thought of shooting it back there, but it would be impossible to duplicate the 1912 flavor," said Da Costa.

"It happens that Warners has a very good Midwestern town set. With 90 days of shooting and many intricate numbers, I'd rather be close to the studio's facilities."

To nearly everyone's delight, Bob Preston will be repeating as Harold Hill. But he was no shoo-in for the film role.

"We had a lot of big stars who wanted to do it—Frank Sinatra, Bing Crosby, Kirk Douglas, Burt Lancaster, etc.," the director said. "The studio was inclined to sign a bigger name than Bob. But I held out for him. This is a role that you had to feel in your stomach, that you'd have to play at least four weeks on the stage before you could really do it."

Where's the Doctor?

During this year one of the hot topics in Congress will be medical care for the aged. But there are some fresh and important signs that we ought also to be concerned about medical care in general.

A new government report presents striking evidence of the decline in the proportion of doctors in this country relative to the size of the population.

The trend is not new but has been in motion for at least the last 20 years. The two most alarming aspects about it are the sharp drops in the proportion of doctors in private practice and in the category of general practitioners.

Last year about two of every three physicians were in private practice. But back in 1931 the ratio was 86 per cent.

This does not mean, of course, that there are actually fewer doctors in private practice. Their numbers have gone up some 20 per cent in recent decades. But the total of persons to be cared for medically has shot up by more than twice that rate.

To add to the problem of the ordinary citizen seeking private medical care, today the physicians who are in private practice are almost equally divided between general practitioners and specialists. Thirty years ago specialists accounted for only one out of every six.

The people who need to consult specialists can be grateful for the trend. But the millions whose prime need is a good family physician have a right to be worried.

As a matter of fact, the difficulty of finding a family doctor who is not already overloaded with work can be testified to by countless families in most parts of the country. The search often is long and hard, and is not always successful.

Unless the doctor-to-population ratio is soon reversed, the quest for a good general physician is likely to become steadily more difficult for the growing numbers of Americans.

Quite obviously, the whole subject of the adequacy of our medical care, both now and in the future, needs exhaustive re-examination.

We need far more doctors, especially general practitioners, and we need to find the means of first stirring interest among qualified individuals and then providing full training with the prospect of a rewarding private practice.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

'Free University of Cuba' in the U. S.

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — The U. S. now finds itself, relations severed with a nation it liberated, to which it gave highly favored sugar treatment and with whose people it enjoyed the friendliest relations.

In this unfortunate vacuum the most important thing for the American people to remember is that you can't win something by doing nothing, and we are not going to win back Cuba or the friendship of Latin America unless we act vigorously and with imagination to fill the vacuum.

Fortunately, the instrument is at hand with thousands of Cuban refugees in Florida to fill the vacuum. But unfortunately we are doing almost nothing about them. At first we let them scrounge out a living or half starve. Hospitable Floridians and Florida municipalities did their best, but the load was heavy. Quite recently, and belatedly, President Eisenhower has advanced $1,000,000 to feed the refugees and has put Tracy Voorhees, who did a fine job handling Hungarian refugees, in charge. Voorhees has jumped in with characteristic dedication, but the job is a big one and he has little staff and diminishing money. He needs a lot of help. It's not his problem alone; it's our problem.

"Free University" in Florida
Here is one idea which might help the United States fill the tragic vacuum with Cuba:

Establish a "free University of Cuba" on American soil, preferably in Florida, as a mecca of free democratic learning for students from all Latin America, plus North American students who want to know more about Latin America.

To operate the University, use the faculty from the University of Havana who have escaped from the dictatorial restriction of free teaching by Fidel Castro. These professors, some of the most respected in Latin America, are now acting as bellhops and waiters in Miami, glad to get any kind of work.

Let's put them to work in the field for which they are trained, to teach freedom, democracy, and friendship. And let's invite doubting students from other Latin countries to attend this proposed mecca of tolerance and understanding.

Most North Americans don't realize it, but the Universities of Latin America have a sovereignty seldom violated by Latin governments. They are institutions of free thought, free research, whose students go out to challenge the government but the government never invades their territory. Such was the University of Havana when Castro was a student, but not under Fidel Castro as ruler of Cuba. He has stationed secret police inside the University in a manner little realized in the rest of Latin America; that is why so many University professors have fled to Florida.

This gives the United States a golden opportunity to use these same professors in a new University of Cuba, completely free.

Distinguished Waiters

Here is the roll call of university professors, Cuban doctors, and jurists now doing their best to make a living in Florida:

Dr. Rogerio De La Torre, professor of law, University of Havana, now a bellboy at the Hotel Americana.

Dr. Jose Miro-Torra, professor of law, University of Havana — now a welder with the Superior Electric Co., Hollywood, Fla.

Justice Mario Dolz, noted Cuban jurist, now assistant bricklayer, Brickell Ave. and 14th St., SW, Miami.

Justice Angel A. Fernandez-Marti, now a waiter at Fidesteak Ranch, 901 E. Ft. Lauderdale St., Ft. Lauderdale, Fla.

Justice Michel Olivella Gonzalez, waiter at Hialeah Ranch, 54th and 39th Sts., Hialeah.

Justice Jorge Ramos, now a distributor of phone directories, Miami.

Dr. Hector Rocamora, perhaps the most outstanding gynecologist in Cuba, now a clean-up man in the operating room of Jackson Memorial Hospital, Miami.

Dr. Ramiro De La Riva, doing similar clean-up work in Jackson Hospital.

This is only a small fraction of the roll call. Sometimes out of adversity come great achievements. The United States has suffered adversity in Cuba, some of our own fault, much of it not. But we can turn partial defeat into a great achievement if we use the Cuban patriots and men of ability who have sought our shores instead of wasting them as busboys, bellhops, and janitors.

For years the United States has neglected the Spanish language, Latin-American culture, the exchange of students and teachers with Latin America. Sen. William Fulbright of Arkansas has been a voice in the wilderness demanding student exchange. He has made some progress, but not nearly enough.

Establishment of a "free University of Cuba" with faculty both from Cuba and from other Latin American countries and North America, could show our critics that we are not what Fidel Castro says we are, and simultaneously serve as a great monument of friendship.

We can't fill the current vacuum with Cuba merely by sitting on the Western side of the Gulf stream moaning about the past. We have to move vigorously to build for the future.

Inventory Time

The Christmas decorations and gift suggestions are now replaced by the stock taking inventory in the stores and business firms. There is a brand new calendar and a clean page and what goods are left from the old year must be checked and evaluated to ascertain what is left and how much it is worth. How much can be placed on sale and how much can be put away until next Christmas?

The new year is a time for personal stock taking too. Are you a better person for having lived through another year? Have you improved your relations with family and friends? Are you making New Year's resolutions which you truly intend to keep? When the Christmas bills come in are you saying to yourself: "I am going to see that I won't be deluged with big bills in January." When you say Happy New Year to the folks you meet, do you really mean it?

In many countries, New Year's Eve and New Year's Day are considered religious holidays. To Catholics throughout the world New Year's Day is held holy. It is a spiritual renewal and a time to forgive and forget. It is a time of spiritual stock taking and a resolve to lead a better life.

Some old world traditions are practiced here but we could use more of them.

MEMPHIS COMMERCIAL APPEAL:

Humor Politically Taboo. — No other presidential campaign that we can recall — and our memory goes pretty far back — was more nearly devoid of humor than the one just lately ended. We have been told that the main contenders have a fair share of talent for the witty saying, but certainly no one would have guessed it from what we heard on radio and television. It seems that humor is politically taboo, which is a pity, perhaps. Adlai Stevenson indulged in the wisecrack from time to time and maybe that explains everything.

WASHINGTON (AP)—It's rainy recommendations.

President-elect John F. Kennedy, during the campaign and after his election, wanted ideas on how to do better for the government and the people. He wanted them before he was sworn in Jan. 20.

So he appointed study groups which went under various names — task force, committee, study panel — to look into the problems assigned them and come up with proposals.

They're coming in now: recommendations which range from reorganizing the Defense Department to sending a peace corps of young Americans to newly independent Asian and African countries as technicians.

This is a big advantage for Kennedy. It gives him a head start in putting together programs he can submit to Congress in a hurry.

President Eisenhower was prodigious in creating commissions but he waited until he moved into the White House. The long delay in making some of the studies simply delayed action on the problems. The last Eisenhower commission — on national goals — reported Dec. 1.

Right now in Washington 2,500 people from all over the country are taking part in a conference on the problems of aging. Congress wanted this one and Eisenhower had to call it.

When there's a conference this size on any problem there should be no surprise if the result is hush.

The unknown quantity about the recommendations being given Kennedy is what he will do with them when he gets into the White House.

For instance: A committee headed by Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., was the first group to report and called for a reorganization of the Defense Department. Symington, under President Truman, had been secretary of the air force and knows the inner workings of the Pentagon. But Kennedy was careful not to give the Symington report a hearty endorsement.

He hadn't yet selected his secretary of defense, so he didn't know how he'd feel about it. He finally made Robert S. McNamara secretary, and McNamara so far has exhibited no enthusiasm for Symington's ideas.

On the other hand Kennedy appointed a one-man committee, James M. Landis, a former Harvard Law School dean, to look into the government's regulatory agencies and make suggestions on improving them.

Those agencies — such as the Interstate Commerce Commission, the Federal Power Commission, the Federal Communications Commission — have controls in most areas of American life.

Landis, who had once worked among them himself — he is a former chairman of the Securities and Exchange Commission — turned in a blistering criticism on the operations of these government agencies with proposals for improving them.

Defining Child's Nature May Curb Development

By Mrs. Muriel Lawrence

In her childhood when other children were told they were lazy, talented, stubborn or fat, Mrs. G was told that she was "helpful." When she cleared the dinner table, found her father's eyeglasses, helped her little sister into her high chair, someone would comment admiringly on these services — and her mother would say:

"Yes, Cora has always been a helpful child, not always thinking of herself like most youngsters nowadays."

Now Mrs. G as a child did not produce this "helpfulness" out of pure altruism. The truth was, she wanted praise. But because she constantly was told that she wanted only to be "helpful," she couldn't know this.

Soon she lost contact with all her wishes to get as well as to give and learned to make helpfulness her chief reason for living. Just as you and I might identify ourselves with one quality like fatness or bad temper or charm as though we possessed no others, Mrs. G got to thinking of herself as nothing but helpful.

Today, a widow, her children grown, this exclusively helpful idea of herself is making trouble for her. With nobody around to be helpful to, Mrs. G has lost her reason for living. At 60, she is seriously considering entering a home for the aged.

We parents can do great damage by defining children's natures for them.

If Jimmy refuses to hang up his coat, let us — if we must — define

Landis the job of overhauling them. This won't be easy since Congress will have a strong say in any change.

The latest study group's report on welfare came Tuesday with recommendations which suggested a broad expansion of Social Security, public assistance, unemployment pay, medical education, and immediate passage by Congress of a program Kennedy himself unsuccessfully backed last year in the Senate — a medical care program for the aged tied to Social Security.

This very subject is under discussion now at Eisenhower's conference on the aging.

Other Kennedy groups have given him recommendations on distressed areas, the nation's economy, education, housing and the peace corps.

But the quick work of these study groups will let Kennedy lay down programs to Congress faster than Eisenhower did when he took over. Eisenhower, starting out, had his hands full with Sen. Joseph McCarthy and the Korean War.

this action as stubborn. But let us not, in the name of humility, call him a stubborn child. We just don't know enough about him to so define his nature for him. If we do insist on doing so, we can end by confining Jimmy in one quality of character so that he loses access to the rest of it.

All of us have known people who seem to think of themselves as one thing only. We've known beautiful women who start going to pieces as soon as their beauty begins to fade. We've known fat people who can't seem to get their minds off this one aspect of their bodies. We've known witty people who will wound their best friends to make a joke.

These are people who suffer from what psychiatrists call an "alienated identity" — a segregated and limited idea of themselves that locks them away from the rest of their nature. Like Mrs. G, they live in only one room of the multiple qualities which compose our wonderful human nature.

matter of FACT

The snake charmer in the circus isn't playing that flute to the snake. He's playing it for the audience. Snakes don't have ears. They depend on feeling vibrations in the ground. It is through the rhythmic swaying of his body and the flute that a man "charms" a snake.

Light Exercise Can Ward Off the 'Loafer's Heart'

By Harold Thomas Hyman, M.D.
The "loafer's heart" and the "detained heart" have recently engaged the attention of Dr. Wilhelm Raab of the University of Vermont.

In Dr. Raab's opinion, with which I am in complete accord, each of these penalties of "soft living" contributes significantly to circulation strains.

In the disturbed and restless world in which we all live not even the most coddled of us can wholly escape the physical, mental and emotional stresses to which we are exposed, whether directly or indirectly.

With each of these stresses, an additional load is imposed on our circulatory systems. The pulse rate speeds. The blood pressure rises. The heart muscle is called on to pump an extra amount of blood. And the coronary vessels are required to transport additional supplies of oxygen to meet the needs of the overworked pump.

Now the well conditioned heart responds in stride to these emergencies. Much like a trained athlete, it speeds and slows, tenses and relaxes, and adjusts and readjusts with the ease of "the daring young man on the flying trapeze."

But the "loafer's heart" or the "detained heart" gets a late start, bumps and bucks like a cold motor in subzero weather and then is unable to throttle down until long after the challenging situation has come and gone.

In my experience the "detained heart" of one who was formerly accustomed to regular exercise is in greater danger than the heart of the loafer whose daily exertions rarely exceeded the bare minimums required for strolls to and from the dining room.

The young mother, who engaged in competitive sport at high school or college, can't quite realize that she hasn't the strength and endurance she once had before the baby was born. And the high school or college letter man, who now spends his time behind a desk or the wheel of his car, can't resist a challenge to his prowess.

Neither hesitates to perform a heavy household chore, sometimes with disastrous results. And, on a holiday, the ex-athlete, still wearing a sweater adorned with the school or college letter, gets his "come-uppance" from an attempted swim across the lake, a five set tennis match with some lanky fledgling, or a "rattling bout with a chunky youngster who turns out to have been the intercollegiate champion in his class.

Of course, the answer to the "loafer's heart" or the "de-trained heart" is regular exercise of a not-too-strenuously competitive nature. Walking, gardening, dancing, calisthenics, family tennis, a relaxed round of golf or romps with younger children tend to keep the muscles fit and the figure trim.

Contrariwise, the lures of rocking chairs and of sofas that give a view of TV screens are open invitations to flabby muscles, a sloppy heart beat and the development of a "bay window."

As the chaps who ran shell games at county fairs used to remark "You pays your money and you takes your choice."

Gold Tint Seems Certain In Ike's Message, Budget

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — There seems sure to be a tint of gold in President Eisenhower's last State of the Union message Wednesday and in his final budget next Monday.

The problems of the loss of gold and its running mate, confidence in the U.S. dollar, haven't gone away just because prices for the metal on the London free market simmered down after October's spectacular flurry.

The gold outflow continues, despite U.S. Treasury steps to stabilize its world price and calm fears about the dollar's status.

The basic causes for the outflow in gold will show up in the new budget — in the overseas spending asked for, defense and aid of other nations, in any policy announced toward U.S. private investment abroad, and in the probable chances of getting a balance in federal outgo and income which would further bolster confidence in the dollar.

Other causes, outside our direct control, will remain in maneuverings abroad. These include the desire of private hoarders to buy the metal as a hedge against the still rumored and vigorously denied devaluation of the U.S. dollar, and even the game the Soviet Union may be playing with its own big supply of gold overhanging the market.

The Soviets can keep the supply of gold on the free market smaller by withholding sales of their gold. They usually sell gold to meet their own trading deficits with Western nations. When they don't sell gold they help to keep the gold supply thin, and this means the price can be bid up easily when private hoarders around the world want it enough.

Or the Soviet Union could dump gold on the market and disrupt it for the time being by undercutting prices — although this would help the U.S. Treasury by drying up demand for its metal held at the official price of $35 an ounce.

Reports from European financial markets indicate the Soviets haven't been doing anything about gold for three months. And one of the things the international financial markets is watching, and probably the U.S. Treasury also, is what the Soviet Union is doing or seems likely to do.

The three-year deficit and the accompanying loss of gold has given rise in some foreign quarters to beliefs that the United States eventually may have to devalue the dollar—that is, make it worth less in gold by hiking the price of gold. Those believing this have bought gold for their private hoards.

Both the old and the incoming U.S. administrations say devaluation isn't even being considered. But both agree that something must be done to cut the annual dollar-payment deficits.

One way is to increase our exports—but these now are running ahead of imports by around $5 billion a year. Another is to cut spending abroad for foreign aid and on military and diplomatic spending. We have another task force in West Germany asking it to help shoulder some of this load.

The upcoming presidential message may give clues as to how we are faring and what more we hope to do in balancing our payments with the rest of the world.

In Greek mythology, the sphinx was a monster having typically a lion's body, wings and the head of a woman.

Think It Through

By E. F. HUTTON

DEPARTMENT OF INJUSTICE — To the cost, waste, and empire building of our Federal bureaucrats, add sheer dishonesty. I refer to a breach of honor itself. We used to think of Uncle Sam as a man of honor, whose word was as good as his bond.

No more. The Census Bureau has told our people that the information it asks, and which we are obliged to furnish, will be held in confidence and not turned over to any other department.

When the Census Bureau made that promise, the United States of America had "given its word." But does that stop the other bureaucrats from trying to pry information out from the Census Bureau files in order to use it against the people who relied on the promise?

Oh no! These bureaucrats get bolder as they get bigger. They begin to think of themselves as above the law, not bound by any code of honor.

In a recent case, the Department of Justice — mark that word "Justice" — argued in open court that the Census Bureau should be ordered to turn over such confidential information to them; despite the solemn promise made to the people who furnished it.

The Department of Justice carried its filthy claim all the way to the Supreme Court, which fortunately ruled that the United States had given its word and should be permitted to keep it.

A fine example for our youth, Mr. Attorney General!

'Resolve Hate Into Love,' Arthur Miller Tells Boyle

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — "Hate is all right if you know how to resolve it into love, but it will kill you if you have to live with it," said playwright Arthur Miller.

After separating two months ago from his actress wife, Marilyn Monroe, Miller moved into a hotel suite.

On a table in the living room rests the published script of a movie he wrote, costarring Miss Monroe, Clark Gable and Montgomery Clift. Originally a short story, it is based on material Miller gained during a stay in Reno, where he obtained a divorce from his first wife before marrying Marilyn in 1956.

The new book version has this dedication: "To Clark Gable, who did not know how to hate."

"Actually, Clark did know how to hate," said Miller, "but in a short time it was dissolved. He was a wonderfully positive man."

"Clark could keep the balance so well. I never knew anyone like him."

Miller, a lanky man with furrowed lines on his face, crinkles often in a friendly grin, worked as a stock clerk to earn money to go to college. He wrote his first play at 19, turned out 10 failures before clicking with "All My Sons" in 1947.

The dramatist, who won a Pulitzer Prize with "Death of a Salesman," quit Hollywood because "I couldn't stand anyone looking over my shoulder." He finds writing a lonely but rewarding life.

"The greatest pleasure anyone can have is to create something beautiful."

Miller says he isn't sure what his philosophy is — or even that he has one.

"I follow my nose in a situation," he said. "I hope I'm a civilized man — and that's about as far as I can go."

"I think we know a great deal about everything except how to live together, and I suppose my plays are an attempt to unearth what is preventing us from doing that."

"We've developed a world which is great for everybody but people. It produces a lot of goods, but it doesn't let people flower and realize themselves."

Asked his opinion of the current American theater, he said crisply: "It stinks. It's in a by-way."

"It isn't dealing with the cogent theme of our times, the problem we are all up against. That problem is the dilemma between individualism that can become anarchy and conformity that can turn us all into human ciphers."

"It is not enough any longer merely to deny conformity or exalt individualism."

"We have to create a new standard of values to accommodate ourselves to this dilemma."

Dashiell Hammett Dies Of Lung Ailment Tuesday

NEW YORK — Dashiell Hammett, 66, who deserted the ranks of private eyes to found the hard-boiled, wise-cracking school of American detective fiction, died Tuesday of a lung ailment.

He had been ill for four years and in a hospital for the last two months. He did little writing in recent years.

Hammett's best known works were "The Maltese Falcon" and "The Thin Man," in the early 1930s. Both were adapted to the movies, the latter in a memorable series that starred Myrna Loy and William Powell.

About 10 years ago, Hammett fell afoul of anti-Communist investigators. He was sent to prison for six months in 1951 for contempt, growing out of his refusal to tell where the Communist party got

Immanuel E &amp; R Church Guild Plans New Year

The Women's Guild of Immanuel Evangelical and Reformed Church met Thursday at 11 a.m. for Mission Study on the subject "One World in Revolution."

The luncheon was served by Mrs. Richard Meisenheimer, Mrs. R. H. Sheffield, Mrs. Fred Milburn, Mrs. Lester Mosby, Mrs. Melvin Gulick, Mrs. William Schuermer and Mrs. Edith Dickson.

Mrs. Armin Klemme gave the devotional. She also passed out pieces of paper and everyone signed up for a prayer pal. There were 47 present.

During the luncheon, Mrs. Ernest Liebel, guild president, passed out to her chairmen, calendar books to be filled in each month of their duties performed. At the head table were Mrs. Elsie Knerl, Mrs. Opal Williams and Mrs. Orville Perkins, whom celebrated birthdays during the month of January.

The worship service was led by Mrs. Edwin Bruning, Mrs. Otto Vajen and Mrs. Armin Klemme talked on "the missionary's responsibility in our time." A film strip was shown entitled "The World in a Word." The dedication of the offering was given by Mrs. Melvin Gulick with Mrs. L. W. Satorious at the piano.

Mrs. Ernest Liebel, president, presided over the business meeting. A yearly report for 1960 was given from each department chairman. A thank you note was read from Pastor and Mrs. Klemme for their Christmas present from the guild.

It was reported that during the past month a prayer circle was held for A. J. Witthaus. There were four greeting cards mailed, two plants and two bouquets were distributed to sick and shut-in people and 19 visitations were made.

Mrs. Eldon Leiter, Elizabeth Circle chairman, gave the report of their monthly meeting. The other four circle chairmen reported their future meeting dates.

Mrs. Liebel's department heads for the coming year are as follows: spiritual life, Mrs. Norma Klemme; altar, Mrs. Edith Gray; acolyte, Miss Shirley Reynolds; floral distribution, Mrs. Harry Nagel; music, Mrs. L. W. Satorious; memorial, Mrs. Richard Rulfs; Christian stewardship, Mrs. Esther Gulick; Christian Education, Mrs. Mildred Wilson; audio visual, Mrs. Lola Brauer; missionary education, Mrs. Edwin Bruening; Christian service, Mrs. Joe Offenburger; social, Mrs. Marshall Blau.

Nursery for Guild, Mrs. Orville Perkins; telephone, Mrs. Richard Meisenheimer; Christian social action, Mrs. Alverta Hill; revision, Mrs. Beulah Griessen; parliamentarian, Mrs. Opal Williams; united church women, Mrs. Viola Rhoads, and publicity, Mrs. Mary Alice Flores.

During the business meeting the following reports were given: spiritual life chairman, Mrs. Klemme, passed out the thank offering boxes. She also told of the Teaching, Preaching, Reaching Mission to be Feb. 3 through 10th, and that there will be an all night prayer vigil prior to this.

Christian stewardship chairman Mrs. Gulick announced the general theme is "Stewardship Standards for Christians Today," the posters, poems, etc. to be in by Feb. 20.

Rev. Klemme reported for Mrs. Joe Offenburger, the Christian Service chairman. He stated the theme this year is "Keeping Them Warm," and that we will continue the projects of the Training School for Boys at Booneville and the Fulton Women's Home.

Christian Social Action chairman, Mrs. Roger Hill, announced that she would arrange field trips for the guild this coming year. Mrs. Orville Perkins reminded everyone to save their coffee can openers.

Rev. Klemme announced the TRPM, the pre-lenten visitations will start the last week in February, there will be a blank in the local newspaper if anyone fails to get one. These are to be filled out and left in your door if you are not at home between 2 and 4:30 p. m. for the Religious Census.

Mrs. Norma Klemme reported for the United Church Women and passed out pamphlets.

Their next meeting is Feb. 17 at the First Methodist Church. Time 11:30 to 12 and 12:05 to 12:30. A nursery will be provided. The main service is at 2 to 3 p. m. This is the diamond jubilee—75th World Day of Prayer to be held.

Mrs. James McCall and Mrs. James Shull sang "It is no Secret," as the devotional. Mrs. James O. Dotson gave a quiz on Parent - Teacher work. Mrs. George Chamberlin, president, presided at the business meeting.

An announcement was made of the next council meeting, which will be Thursday night, Feb. 2, at Washington School. This will be preceded by a covered dish meal in the cafeteria. The hour of the supper will be announced later. Following this there will be a guest speaker, Robert Milton, Kansas City.

Mr. Milton is serving as cultural arts chairman on the state board of the Missouri Congress of Parents and Teachers. This meeting is for all Parent - Teacher members in Sedalia.

Mrs. P. Cecil Owen and Mrs. Theodore Wells presented the by-laws which were adopted by the council. After membership count the meeting was adjourned.

County Recorder's Office Bristling With Business

(Editor's Note: This is the fourth in this series of articles concerning city and county officials, their staffs and their responsibilities.)

The recorder's office is located on the first floor of the Pettis County Court House on the south side, with Reno Johnson as recorder. He was elected in 1958 and took office Jan. 1, 1959.

The chief deputy is Naomi Brown, an attractive dark-eyed young woman, who holds the distinction of being the only woman recorder ever to serve in Pettis County. Mrs. Brown first went to work as chief deputy for John Ryan Dec. 10, 1950, that she might learn the work of the office. She became chief deputy under Malachi O'Brien, who had been elected recorder in November and would take over Jan. 1, 1951. On June 28, 1953, Mr. O'Brien died and Naomi was appointed to fill the office of recorder by Gov. James Blair, for the unexpired term.

In the office also, are Mrs. Ruth Lindsey, who has been a deputy for the past four years and Miss Marguerite O'Connell, who has served for two years as clerk.

The recorder of deeds office is always a busy place. It is here that all real estate transactions are recorded, cemetery deeds, all chattel mortgages on personal property and other records. The sheriff's official bond is also filed here.

Each instrument recorded is numbered and people sometimes do not realize the different channels these instruments must go through before the transaction is completed. They feel that when something is to be recorded it should be done while they wait, but the procedure takes about ten days.

If a number cannot be found the whole office is frantic because it must be kept. Once a woman came in the office to record cemetery deed. It was numbered, and while Mrs. Brown went into another room to get information for her, the woman thinking that was all there was to recording, picked up the deed and put it in her purse. It was sometime later that afternoon that the number was found to be missing. The recorder's office was practically turned upside down trying to find the missing instrument. With all the people who had come in and had deeds recorded during day how would they find the person the deed belonged to? They were still working at 8 o'clock that night, trying every clue, and finally traced the woman, who innocently caused all the trouble. "Why, yes," she told Mrs. Brown. "I put it back in my purse because I thought you were through with it."

All military discharges, too, are recorded free at the recorder's office, and each man given a certified copy of his discharge.

It's at this office that application is made for marriage license. There is, of course, a three day waiting period, not counting the day the application is made, before the marriage license can be issued. The application may be made by only one person, but both of the people to be married must go to the office for the license because they must both sign. There is a requirement of a blood test taken not more than 15 days before the issuing of the license. Sometimes persons getting marriage licenses ask that it be kept out of the newspaper. But, explained Mrs. Brown, that is a public record and cannot be withheld. The abstractors get all of their information from the recorder's office. Here, too, the Credit Exchange keeps its records from the personal and real estate loans recorder. All election expenses must be filed, both state and county, in this office. Here, too, are tax liens, withholding and government liens.

A photostat machine in this office is used to make photostatic copies of records, but cannot be used for any commercial work. The salaries in this particular office are paid from the fees they receive, and if there are not enough fees to pay the salaries what they do receive is divided up with each person in the office getting a share of it. This has not been necessary for a number of years, but at one time there were not enough fees to pay the full salaries. When the salaries have been paid from the fees the remainder is then turned over to the county.

The recorder's office cannot refuse to record any deed, but the fee for the recording must be paid at that time. There are no charge accounts.

This office does, however, give many free services. It seems, also, to be an information bureau. People wanting to know all sorts of things seek the recorder's office.

The records in this office go back to 1833.

Tougher Athletic Code To NCAA

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A tougher athletic code than that broken by North Carolina, Arizona and Loyola of New Orleans was before the National Collegiate Athletic Association today.

New legislation would provide for a national letter of intent, a general five-year eligibility rule, a stiffer transfer rule and limitations on the use of foreign athletes.

The bigger schools made the news Tuesday, but the NCAA's small colleges were expected to dominate today's formal session and kill most of impending rule changes.

There was little sympathy expressed by the small ones when North Carolina, Arizona and Loyola each were placed on probation for one year by the NCAA Council.

Preliminary round table discussion on the legislation indicated the smaller schools, which dominate the sprawling organization, feel it is up to the institutions and their conferences to legislate the question of athletic eligibility.

North Carolina and Loyola, as part of their probation, were barred from post season championships and other basketball tournaments cooperating with the NCAA. Arizona, whose guilt came from football violations, received probation only with no additional sanctions.

But the seventh-ranked Tar Heels of Coach Frank McGuire managed to split a morning-night doubleheader. After a morning shellacking here that barred them from a shot at the national title, they beat Wake Forest 83-74 in an Atlantic Coast Conference game at Chapel Hill. It was North Carolina's ninth victory in 11 games. Loyola (4-7) plays its next game Friday night with Memphis State.

Arizona's probation stemmed from regular monthly cash payments to football players, conducting an in-season tryout for a football player and transporting a prospective player to the campus for a summer job prior to enrollment at the university.

The NCAA said Arizona's penalty would have been more severe but that the university has cooperated fully and also has agreed to fire two assistant football coaches in June.

North Carolina came under fire for excessive expenses in basketball recruiting and for paying the expenses of varsity players' parents to the annual December Dixie Classic.

The NCAA said Loyola awarded a basketball scholarship in an unapproved manner, then revoked the scholarship when the boy couldn't make the team.

Today's business session was expected to be a long one. Delegates were hoping it would end before the annual dinner of the American Football Coaches Association.

The AFCA will announce its major and small college coaches of the year. There were eight nominations in each category.

Wrestling Benefit Is Big Success

Tuesday night the Pettis County Post No. 16, American Legion, held its annual benefit wrestling show for the Crippled Children's Center. It was a success and one of the larger crowds to attend the event indicating a sizeable check will be presented to the organization.

A complete report on the monies will be announced as soon as necessary expenses are paid and all tickets can be accounted for. Joe Toler, who spearheaded the program indicated the check would be in the neighborhood of $300 or more.

Wrestlers appearing on the card worked their hearts out and provided some of the best and most exciting matches seen. Protests arose over the main event when The Medics were accused of using something which they hid in their trunks. "They were knucks," shouted one fan. Another said a "piece of iron," but a check failed to reveal either.

The event grew steadily rougher as the clock ticked away and as each fall period went by. Number One Medic won the first fall over Lorenzo Parente, who was teamed with Sonny Meyers, in seven minutes and 32 seconds. The Medic used a series of body slams and a press to win.

Using the "death clutch" Parente came back in the second period to beat Opponent Number One in five minutes and 18 seconds, but not until after both Medics had been given a severe beating from Parente and Meyers. The final fall was awarded to the team of Parente and Meyers by the referees after the Medics went wild, hit the referees and pounded both Meyers and Parente to the floor.

Thor Hagen, who assisted Jack Crawford in the ring, lost no time in awarding the event and squaring off to take one or both of the boys dressed in white masks and white trunks. Time of the third fall was nine minutes and 32 seconds.

Opening the evening of wrestling entertainment was a one fall event between Lorenzo and Medic Number Two. They had a rough time of it and ended the 15 minutes in a draw.

Lee "Bulldog" Henning and Thor Hagen put on a special event of a one-fall 20-minute time limit match. Henning, using a terrific arm lock, pressed Hagen into submission in 16 minutes and 10 seconds.

Tiny Roe and Lord Littlebrook, midgets, put the mat action into high gear for the evening when they battled through three falls. Roe, using the Boston crab on Littlebrook, won the fall in four minutes and 31 seconds. Littlebrook came back and took the next two falls, the first in eight minutes and two seconds with a cartwheel spin, and the second in five minutes and 11 seconds with a reverse double leg lock.

The next Legion matches will be switched to Wednesday night, January 25th, due to a previous date scheduled for convention hall on Tuesday night. In February the matches will get back on the usual every-other-Tuesday program in the big hall.

Stover Has Easy Time Defeating Climax Springs

Stover had an easy time defeating Climax Springs 58-29 in a non-conference basketball tilt Tuesday night.

Although they were playing on the Climax Springs court, Stover's Shackleford boys had a good scoring spree with L. Shackleford the night's high point man at 20, and D. Shackleford taking second place honors with 15.

For Climax Springs, the scoring honors were spread between England, L. Thomas and J. Thomas, each with eight points.

In the evening's "B" game, Climax Springs gained some prestige by winning 28-21. L. Thomas was high "B" team scorer for the winners with 11 points, while James led Stover and was high man for the game with 13.

Score by quarters: Stover: 13 12 20 13-58; Climax Springs: 7 3 10 9-29. Scoring: Stover—L. Shackleford 20, D. Shackleford 15, Beckman 10, Wilbanks 6, Notling 4, Spaulding 3, Climax Springs—England 8, J. Thomas 8, L. Thomas 8, Keltner 3, Jackson 2.

Stan Indicates 1961 May Be Last Season

HOUSTON (AP)—Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals indicated Tuesday night the 1961 season may be his last as an active player.

"I doubt if I'll be playing in 1962," Musial said at a baseball dinner.

The Cardinal star expressed regret that the new National League franchise in Houston does not become effective until 1962.

Tris Speaker Award To Dickie Kerr

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Dickie Kerr, the honest hero of baseball's most embarrassing World Series, is the first winner of the annual Tris Speaker award.

Kerr, who pitched two victories against Cincinnati in the 1919 Black Sox World Series that some of his Chicago White Sox teammates said they tried to throw, got the award Tuesday night as President Warren Giles and seven National League managers welcomed Houston into the National League at the city's first major league baseball dinner.

Kerr was chosen for his contributions to baseball. One of them was seated at the head table — a lifetime class D pitcher named Stan Musial whom Kerr converted into one of the great hitters of all time.

Kerr was near tears as he faced the crowd of nearly a thousand at the banquet after he learned he won the award.

"I can hardly speak," he said. "But I'm so happy that in 1962 we in Houston won't have to look at television to see major league baseball."

Kerr is now a construction office manager in Houston—a city that has a franchise for National League play in 1962.

"In baseball's darkest hour, this man stood as a symbol of shining light," said Clark Nealon, sports editor of the Houston Post, when he gave the award to Kerr.

Nealon, who presented the award in behalf of the Houston chapter of the Baseball Writers Association of America, said Kerr has always refused to discuss the 1919 scandal.

"Dickie Kerr is not eligible for the Hall of Fame, but he is a man who belongs in any baseball hall of fame," Nealon said.

Speaker, the first Texan to enter the baseball Hall of Fame, had a lifetime batting average of .344 after a 22-year career in the American League.

Giant Coach Tabs Browns Dangerous

NEW YORK (AP)—Allie Sherman, new head coach of the New York Giants, tabs the Cleveland Browns "the team to beat" in the Eastern Division of the National Football League next season.

"I think that Philadelphia will have trouble without Norm Van Brocklin," said Sherman, who Tuesday signed a three-year contract to succeed Jim Lee Howell. Van Brocklin, the Eagles' brilliant quarterback, retired after leading them to the league championship.

"I don't like to make predictions this early," said Sherman, "but I feel that we should be right up there with the Browns, Pittsburgh and St. Louis could make a run of it, too."

Sherman's appointment was announced at a press luncheon during which Wellington Mara, the Giants' vice president, disclosed that Green Bay Coach Vince Lombardi was his club's first choice. Lombardi was an assistant coach of the Giants before moving to Green Bay.

"We went after Lombardi right after the close of the 1960 season, but he told us his obligations at Green Bay would not permit him to consider the job," Mara explained. "We had a mutual understanding when he went to Green Bay that he would get first crack at the job if it became available. We are certain that Sherman will make a fine head coach."

Lombardi, who piloted the Packers to the Western Division title in 1960, has three years remaining of his five-year contract with Green Bay. He was Sherman's predecessor as the Giants' offensive coach and this year led Green Bay to the NFL's Western Division title, losing the championship to Philadelphia, 17-13.

Sherman was one of pro football's first quarterbacks, joining Philadelphia in 1943. He remained with the Eagles until 1947. He was offensive coach under Steve Owen of the Giants for five seasons. Then he became field boss of Canada's Winnipeg club. He returned to the Giants as chief scout in 1957 and was named Howell's assistant in 1959.

Hughesville, Warsaw 'Cats Game Close

The powerful Warsaw Wildcats met their match Tuesday night when they clashed with Hughesville, also called the Wildcats. Warsaw, however, won the game by a bare two points, 59-57, scored on a field goal by Harley Bowers in the last five seconds of the game. The game was played at Hughesville.

Though the loss was a tough one for Hughesville, it was nevertheless an accomplishment to hold strong Warsaw team to a two-point margin. The biggest margin throughout the game was only five points.

Hughesville's 'Cats outscored the visitors in the field-goal department, 23-21, but Warsaw was superior to the home team on the charity line.

Five Hughesville players knocked out the 57 points between them, sparked by the 17-point performance of Jimmy Martin. High for Warsaw was Eddie Scott, 20 points, good enough for the evening's scoring honors.

The victory was the 17th straight for Warsaw this season, but the loss was the fourth for Hughesville to 10 victories. In the conference, Hughesville stands undefeated as yet, but place their record on line Friday against Smithton in a game at Hughesville. It will be a PBCAA tilt.

Warsaw meets Skyline at Skyline Friday in a non-conference game.

In the "B" game, Warsaw won again, just barely, 33-32, with Shephardson scoring nine. Rodewald scored 11 points for "B" game scoring honors for Hughesville.

Score by quarters: Hughesville: 10 12 18 17-57; Warsaw: 11 16 12 20-59. Scoring: Hughesville—Mike Sluby 14, Larry Thompson 5, Bill Stephens 11, Jimmy Martin 17, Larry Hieronymus 10, Warsaw—Eddie Scott 20, Ronnie Jenkins 18, Harley Bowers 14, Husong 5, Tolliver 2.

Versailles Wins Easy Victory Over Deepwater

Versailles took an easy 62-36 victory from Deepwater in a non-conference game played at Versailles Tuesday night, with George Tankersley scoring 22 points throughout the game. The Deepwater "B" also went down in humiliation, 39-13, with Jim Vaughn high scorer for Versailles with eight, and Williams high for the losers with four points.

At the end of the first half in the varsity game, Versailles was riding along on a comfortable 29-16 lead. Deepwater never threatened after intermission, and only in the fourth period did they score over ten points in a quarter.

High for the losing varsity squad was Winn with 14 points, followed by McMillin with 11.

Versailles, with a 6-7 season record, meets Osage at Osage in a Tri-County conference game this Friday.

Score by quarters: Versailles: 16 13 12 21-62; Deepwater: 7 9 9 11-36. Scoring: Versailles—Lloyd Hester 8, James Finley 4, Corky Hall 8, Jim Dorman 4, George Tankersley 22, Kent Cable 2, Richard Botton 8, Buddy Cary 4, Deepwater—Winn 14, McMillin 11, Lewis 3, Tullis 2, Bybee 2, Sapp 2, Woods 2.

NCAA Ruling Year's Probation Hurts Two Teams

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The year's probation slapped on North Carolina's basketball team by the NCAA will hurt. The Tar Heels of smilin' Frank McGuire could be the toughest squad assembled at Chapel Hill since McGuire's unbeaten NCAA champions of 1957.

The Tar Heels, seventh-ranked nationally, accepted the news from Pittsburgh that makes them ineligible for this year's NCAA competition, then tumbled Wake Forest out of the Atlantic Coast Conference lead Tuesday night with an 83-74 victory.

It was the seventh in a row and ninth in eleven games for the Tar Heels, who moved up to second place in the rugged ACC with a 2-0 league record to 3-0 for Duke, the nation's No. 8 team.

McGuire and his mostly New York roster had indicated their superiority over the Blue Devils during Christmas week by spilling Duke to its only loss in the final of the Dixie Classic.

Two New Yorkers, All-America candidates York Larese of Greenwich Village, and Doug Moe of Brooklyn, again were the triggermen for the Tar Heels. Larese had 26 points and Moe 19 in the triumph that chopped Wake Forest's five-game conference winning streak. Len Chappell with 24 points and Billy Packer with 22 were again the Deacon dandies.

Unbeaten DePaul rode Howie Carl's sharpshooting to its 11th straight victory, 69-60 over Ohio U.; third-ranked St. Bonaventure (12-1) crushed Gannon (Pa) 103-71, and Marquette snapped Detroit's 23-game home court winning streak, 85-63, in other top games on the college schedule.

Texas A&M, behind a 37-point burst by Carroll Broussard, sped into the Southwest Conference lead at 3-0 with an 81-62 decision over Arkansas, and Texas' balanced defending champions got back into the race by handing Texas Tech its first defeat 63-55.

In other SWC games, Steve Smith's 24 points led Rice's 82-60 whipping of TCU, and SMU, with Steve Strange scoring 22 points, handed Baylor its 11th loss in 13 games, 75-64.

Mississippi state won its second straight Southeastern Conference test, 80-63 over Alabama, and Western Kentucky wheeled to its fifth consecutive Ohio Valley triumph, 82-78 over Tennessee Tech. LaSalle, behind Joe Carey's 22 points, beat Lehigh 77-62 for a 4-0 record that tops the Middle Atlantic Conference, and The Citadel nipped William & Mary 64-63 in overtime and pulled into a tie with West Virginia for second place in the Southern Conference.

Stanford handed California's slumping Bears their third straight defeat, 53-52, and Oklahoma City (10-4) set a team record with 42 field goals in routing Hardin-Simmons 106-85.

Memphis State, beaten only by West Virginia in the Sugar Bowl final, won its 10th, an 85-58 thumping of Northeastern Louisiana.

Any of Six Women May Win Tourney

ORMOND BEACH, la. (AP)—Any one of six women golfers who gets her game back in shape this week can win the 32nd annual South Atlantic Amateur Tournament.

The pretourney favorite, Barbara Williams of Richmond, Calif., qualified with 80 Tuesday but she and many of the other entrants said their golf was rusty from a holiday layoff.

Doris Phillips of Belleville, Ill., and Tish Preuss of Pompano Beach, Fla., tied for medal honors. Each shot 77, three over women's par, for the 6,120-yard Ellinor Village Country Club course.

Marge Burns of Greensboro, N.C., and Dot Talbot of Daytona Beach had 78 each; Barbara iton of Hamilton, Ohio, 79.

S.C. Tigers Lose To Hickman Tuesday

The Smith-Cotton Tigers bowed to Hickman in Columbia Tuesday night, 57-69.

The game was tied 17-17 at the end of the first quarter, but then the Hickman boys got the range and at halftime, the score stood 39-25, Hickman.

Smith-Cotton made an attempt to regain lost ground in the third period and outscored Hickman by seven points in that period but it wasn't enough.

Hickman's Fewell was the big gun of the game with 28 points. Top shooter for the Tigers was Tim Morgan with 18. Charlie Case combined six field goals and four bonus baskets for 16.

87th Congress Could Wear 'Welfare' Tag Under Jack

Editors Note — Help for depressed areas, higher teacher pay, more medical care for the aged—these were high in the list of John F. Kennedy's campaign pledges. What will the president-elect do about them after moving into the White House? From a veteran Associated Press political writer, here's an estimate of the broad outlines of the Kennedy legislative program. It's the third of five articles on Kennedy plans and problems.

By JACK BELL
AP Political Reporter

WASHINGTON (AP) — History may tie the tag of "the welfare Congress" on the 87th meeting of the nation's lawmakers if President-elect John F. Kennedy gets his way.

In advance of its actual submission after his inauguration, Kennedy's legislative program is taking shape as one aimed at bettering the economic and social status of millions of Americans.

While he hasn't laid down any specific priorities, Kennedy has said he wants speedy action on measures to provide medical care for the aged, aid for education, housing, minimum wage and aid for chronically depressed areas.

The president-elect has talked of easing interest rates, revising the labor laws, spurring economic development, and expanding national resources programs.

In the controversial field of civil rights he is tied to a platform declaration for congressional passage of a measure to clothe the attorney general-to-be, his brother Robert, with authority to bring federal injunction suits to enforce school desegregation.

This and some other proposals face tough and possibly successful opposition in a Congress the Democrats nominally control but where a coalition of conservatives of both parties has a great deal to say about the final form of legislation.

Outside of Congress, Kennedy has promised executive action to improve the condition of certain segments of the population.

He said repeatedly in the presidential campaign there was much a president could do by the stroke of a pen, such as ending segregation in federal housing programs, furnishing moral leadership and calling a conference of Southern moderates to recommend measures for civil rights progress.

The Kennedy program for aid to education has not taken final form. He supported a bill passed by the Senate in the 86th Congress for a two-year $1.86-billion program for school construction and grants for teachers' salaries.

The House passed a four-year program authorizing $1.3 billion for construction only. The two houses couldn't agree and the bill died. Whether Kennedy is any more successful as president than as a senator in promoting a teachers' pay measure remains to be seen.

The new president will have a fight on his hands in proposing a medical care program for the aged, financed through Social Security taxes. Sen. Robert S. Kerr, D-Okla., already has served no-

He will oppose a tax-financed proposal as a substitute for the state-federal program passed by the last Congress.

Republicans are lining up their forces to battle an expected Kennedy recommendation for an increase in the minimum wage to $1.25 an hour, with an expansion of coverage to another five million persons, mostly in the retail trades.

Republicans can be expected to contend that a minimum wage boost now may only increase unemployment. They are not alone in their opposition. For example, Sen. Fulbright, D-Ark., takes a similar position.

Kennedy's bill to help depressed areas may carry around $400 million in federal grants and loans to encourage new industries in areas of chronic unemployment. It probably will call for retraining of miners, railroad workers and others who have lost their jobs permanently.

Kennedy is expected to back a housing bill geared to spurring this lagging industry with lower interest rates and easier terms for credit purchases. In the past he has supported urban renewal programs.

There is some doubt on the course the new president may take in the complex field of labor law reforms.

The platform on which he was elected pledges the new president to seek repeal of the Taft-Hartley law provision which authorizes states to pass right-to-work laws. But it seems questionable to most observers that this will get a high priority—if any—in the rush to legislation providing broader welfare benefits.

These benefits could include a new department of urban affairs, to handle mounting problems of city dwellers, as well as some kind of central agency pointed at giving consumers a break.

These two projects still are in the speculative stage, however. Most associates think Kennedy will wait until he gets the feel of the presidency and plumbs the economic situation thoroughly before making any such proposals.

M'Lady Will Show Back This Spring

By JOY MILLER
AP Women's Editor

NEW YORK (AP) — The sight of all those bare backs slouching up and down the ramp in gallant display of new spring clothes was enough to send sympathetic chills coursing along the spines of more than one visiting fashion writer.

Outside, the winds howled and the temperature hovered in the 20s. Inside the Hotel Pierre Ballroom Monday more than 200 of the nation's fashion press watched the first afternoon showing of the New York Couture group's spring collections.

High in front and low in back dominated the three collections of Edward Abbott, Luis Estevez and Marquise.

For Abbott, Wilson Folmar had designed necklines with deep cowls in back. Often the cowls hung below bare backs.

Brief jackets or overblouses peeled off of barebacked cocktail dresses with the uplift built in, as in bathing suits. Simple silk linen sheaths were cut high in front, low in back. A high cross drape at the neck with low back appeared repeatedly.

Except for an occasional overblouse jacket, waistlines were in natural position. Skirts were slim in silk or linen, floatingly full chiffon or French crepe.

Estevez paid tribute to the jet age with a many-layered costume designed to help the air passenger circumvent excess baggage charges. You don't pack your wardrobe; you put it all on your back and strip it off as necessary: coat, then jacket, then bare-topped black dress.

For Marquise, Philippe Tournay concentrated on necks, backs and skirts. He put waist-wrapping print blouses under relaxed collarless jackets that stood away from the body at the neck and waist. The skirts were often boxpleated or flared. The backs were bare, or cowed or sported handkerchief collars.

IN THE SWIM — There are compensations for living in Texas even though it's not the biggest state anymore. Margie Boyd, 18-year-old Del Mar College sophomore, demonstrates one—January swimming. She's testing the briny at Corpus Christi.

Focus on Health

Obesity, Birth Marks Are Topics for Medical Experts

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Medical experts comment on obesity, strawberry birth marks, and "substitute nerves."

Resolution

For 1961, the American Heart Association urges everyone to resolve to put and keep their weight at a reasonably normal level as a way of protecting their hearts and their health.

"Overweight overworks the heart," the association says, pointing to higher mortality rates among men, and also among women to a lesser extent, who are carrying around excess pounds. Get good medical advice about what is a proper diet for you, it adds.

Disappearing Birthmarks

Strawberry birthmarks are fairly common, but most of them disappear with time, or become greatly improved, without any treatment, British skin specialists report.

Among 169 such birthmarks among 140 children, only 21 marks remained by the time the youngsters were eight years old.

Substitute Nerves?

From the Soviet Union comes word of experiments in which metal electrodes are being substituted for severed lengths of nerves in dogs' legs.

Dogs in the experiments run and jump quite normally, says a Soviet writer describing research of Prof. Boris Ognev. Prof. Ognev has performed 36 operations on 30 dogs so far, removing up to two-inch lengths of the sciatic nerve, he said. Further details of how the "substitute" nerve actually works were not supplied in a Tass broadcast quoting from Nedelya, the weekly supplement of the Soviet newspaper Izvestia.

Deeper Look

A major goal in medicine is to discover how to transplant, successfully, a spare kidney, lung, heart or leg from one human to another. Such transplants invariably are rejected by a type of allergic reaction, except between identical twins.

Real clues to the reason for the failure could lie in subtle changes in cells of transplanted tissues. To explore the nature of this reaction, an electron microscope capable of magnifying objects 100,000 times will be used in the transplantation studies program at Harvard University and Peter Bent Brigham Hospital in Boston.

Plans to buy an electron microscope, aided by a National Heart Institute grant, are reported by Dr. Gustave J. Dammin, professor of pathology. Ordinary microscopes using light waves, rather than electrons, magnify objects only about 5,000 times.

The Downtowner

Open New Ft. Scott Hotel Meeting a Long-felt Need

By G. W. Marble
The Fort Scott Tribune
Written for The Associated Press

FORT SCOTT, Kan. (AP)—The Downtowner, Fort Scott's new hotel, is in operation, meeting a long felt community need, following a 25-year effort on the part of civic leaders.

The 50-unit motor hotel was built on the same downtown corner where the Goodlander Hotel an early day landmark, stood for 73 years.

Efforts started many years ago to remodel or rebuild the Goodlander, but were thwarted by legal technicalities which prevented granting a clear title to the old hotel. A trust agreement had given a life interest in it to the wife of T. B. Baker, well known hotel builder.

The site was finally acquired in June, 1957, and a Fort Scott group formed a corporation to promote a new hotel as a community project. Since the Goodlander was razed there has been no adequate downtown meeting place for civic clubs or luncheon groups.

The hotel project faced opposition from outlying motels which had built up during the declining years of the Goodlander, but the townspeople recognized the need for an attractive downtown hotel and 230 persons subscribed more than $200,000 in stock to make it possible. A loan from the Small Business Administration completed the financing.

The hotel was erected by Fort Scott contractors, and even some of the spring and mattresses, some bed springs and mattresses, some guest room furniture, drapes and maid carts were fabricated by local concerns.

The Downtowner embodies the convenient features of a motel on a downtown site, with individual parking spaces for guests. Entrances to the first floor guest rooms are from the outside, but the second floor has traditional hotel features with inside corridors.

The hotel is operating under a lease made to John M. Dickey, formerly of Phillipsburg, who operates motels in Kansas, Missouri and Florida. J. Ury (Tommy) Thompson is the manager.
